

DYNAMITE TO WRECK BRIDGE.

Effort to Destroy Railroad Structure at Mahanoy City Was Only Partially Successful.

EXPLOSION WOKE TOWN.

Attack on Non-Union Man Repulsed by Mine Police—Gen. Gobin Ready for Trouble.

MAHANOCY CITY, Pa., Sept. 20.—An attempt was made this morning to wreck with dynamite the railroad bridge on the orth Mahanoy Colliery siding.

The report from the explosion was so terrific that it awoke the entire town, but the attempt was not a success.

The damage to the bridge can be repaired in half a day.

Anthony Ferguson, inside foreman at North Mahanoy Colliery, was attacked by a crowd of strikers while on his way to work this morning. He was being roughly treated, when a crowd of coal and iron police rushed to his rescue.

The mob at first offered some resistance, but when the police fired a volley from their revolvers the strikers fled. Ferguson was able to proceed to the mine.

Reports of similar occurrences in other parts of the Schuylkill region have been received here.

Dynamite is being generally used to prevent the resumption of work in the mine regions. So far none of the perpetrators of the outrages has been caught. The bridge over the Schuylkill River to Silver Creek Colliery was blown up yesterday with dynamite.

Earlier in the day the home of Richard Parfitt, a non-union miner of the colliery, was partially destroyed with the same explosive.

The reservoir supplying the Moffet washery in Luzerne County, was also blown up.

DIES AFTER DOCTOR SAID HE WAS DRUNK

Ambulance Surgeon Refuses to Take Man Suffering with Heart Disease to Hospital, Sent Him to Police Station.

The third case within a week of an ambulance surgeon pronouncing an unconscious man found in the streets intoxicated, followed by the victim's death from other causes, occurred this morning. Charles McGowan, No. 22 West Eighteenth street, was found unconscious in front of No. 74 Gansevoort street by Policeman Francis McNulty, who called an ambulance. Dr. Quinn came from St. Vincent's Hospital, said the man was simply drunk and told the officer to take him to the police station.

McGowan was taken to the Charles street station where Sergt. Shels said the man appeared to be sick, but the doctor, who went with him, said: "Oh, no; he's simply drunk, very drunk. He'll be sober in time to go to court, I guess."

The sergeant, who doubted the physician put McGowan on a bench in the back room instead of locking him in a cell and told Doorman Gallagher to watch him closely and report anything wrong with him. In a few minutes the doorman ran in and said the man seemed to be in great pain. The sergeant looked at him and then sent in a hurry call for the ambulance. Dr. Quinn had just reached the hospital when he was sent back. When he reached the station the second time McGowan was dead.

"Well, I guess he's dead, isn't he?" he said. "He must have had a bad case."

A coroner's physician was called and said the man had died from heart disease.

DR. WALTER CURRY DEAD.

Attended William M. Rice and Was a Witness in Patrick Case.

BRANFORD, Conn., Sept. 20.—Dr. Walter Curry, for twenty years a practicing physician in New York City, died today of acute pleurisy while visiting friends at Castle Rock in this town.

Dr. Curry was a brother of J. L. M. Curry, envoy to Spain to represent this country at the coming of age of King Alfonso.

He was attending physician on the late millionaire William M. Rice, and was a witness in the trial of Albert T. Patrick, accused of conspiring with Valer Jones to cause the old man's death.

SOCIETY WOMAN WHO LEFT HUSBAND, OPENS AN OFFICE

Mrs. T. Henry Randall Starts an Employment Agency for First-Class Dressmakers.

MRS. THOMAS H. RANDALL.

Mrs. T. Henry Randall, in the exclusive Goelet-Gerry-Vanderbilt-Fish set of society, has gone into trade. And an employment agency at that! Society's verdict is yet to come.

With her announcement of becoming a tradeswoman is the news of her legal separation from her husband, an architect. Mrs. Randall was Miss Elizabeth Bradhurst, a first cousin of William Bradhurst Osgood Field, who married Miss Lila Sloane. She is also related to the Goelet and Gerry families. She and Randall were married in the Church of the Transfiguration May 5, 1900.

Starts Dressmakers' Bureau.

Although under the agreement of separation Mrs. Randall receives a part of the income of Mr. Randall, she has decided to go into trade for herself and has rented an office at No. 108 West Twelfth street, where she is already sending out notices to her acquaintances in high society that she will be able to supply them with first-class seamstresses. She calls it the Dressmakers' Bureau. Ladies in society who wish dressmakers will be supplied by Mrs. T. Henry Randall, who, as a member of society herself, knows what society wants.

Mrs. Randall has established a new home at No. 7 East Thirtieth street. While decked in diamonds and pearls she was interviewed, and this is what she said:

"Yes, I am a tradeswoman. I was forced to it. I don't mind in the least, for business is a novelty and my friends will not think the less of me because I am earning my living."

"Our married life was clouded by trifling wrangles almost since the wedding. In last May the climax came suddenly. I had entertained with a musicale in the Martineau West Thirty-third street. Guardabassi sang and my girlhood friends made it a rather smart affair. Not ten minutes after the last guest had departed Mr. Randall began an insulting tirade. He sneered at the musicians in which I took such pride. His affections grew more unendurable as I retained my composure and did not retort."

Driven to Despair.

"Finally I could bear it no longer. His abusive words drove me to despair. 'Randall,' I cried, 'you will never say those words to me again, for I shall never speak to you again. I am going to leave you this moment!'

"I leaped from my chair. He attacked me and dragged me across the room. Throwing open the door of a closet, he thrust me in. His face assumed a purple hue. I was nervous from fright at his audacity. I put out my foot to prevent his closing the door. He kicked my foot back into the closet and turned this key."

"I screamed for help, and presently the manager of the Martineau came to my assistance."

SUED FOR $50,000.

Executors of the Late Father Carroll Bring Action for His Death.

BALTIMORE, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Percy B. O'Sullivan and Michael J. Moran, who are the executors of the late Father Martin Carroll, of Brooklyn, have begun an action in the Supreme Court against the Hudson Valley Railway to recover $50,000 for the priest's death, which occurred at Saratoga on Aug. 13.

Father Carroll was a passenger on a Hudson Valley trolley car which collided with another near Saratoga Lake, and received injuries which resulted in his death.

HANGED HIMSELF IN UNCLE'S HOME.

Simon Hirshmann, Who Arrived Here Three Days Ago, Disheartened Because He Couldn't Find Brother.

Disheartened because he could not find his brother, Simon Hirshmann, a Russian Jew, twenty years old, who arrived in this country three days ago, today hanged himself from a gas jet in his bedroom, at the home of his uncle, Dr. Leopold Hirshmann, No. 131 East Thirty-sixth street.

A few minutes before the suicide the young man was heard crying his uncle's name. The doctor's father, Solomon Hirshmann, went to the room and found the body suspended from the gas jet.

"I gave him home, clothing, money—everything he wanted," said Dr. Hirshmann. "He had no reason to be melancholy. If he were alone now, I would have him the worst licking he ever had. He was a fool and a coward."

DID MAN AND WIFE BEAT HIM TO DEATH?

Marketman Fatally Hurt with Heavy Jar and Stabbed in Altercation with Neighbor, and Six Arrests Are Made.

(Special to The World.)

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20.—James Gibbons, a market man, of No. 38 Commerce street, was murderously assaulted as he entered his home at noon today. He was struck in the face with a heavy jar, both eyes were badly cut and he was stabbed in the face and head.

James Roff, who occupied rooms in the same house, committed the assault. Roff was in turn stabbed several times before he could get away. He was caught in the street. Gibbons will die as a result of his injuries.

Other people in the house claim that Roff and his wife dragged Gibbons into the room and, locking the door, began to beat him to death. The door of the front room occupied by the Roffs was broken down by Detective Donovan. The place looked like a slaughter-house. The blood was splattered on the walls and floor and broken china filled the floor.

Six arrests have been made.

Weather Changes Affect Three-fourths of the People—Munyon's Cold Cure the Surest Safeguard.

Weather Changes Affect Three-fourths of the People—Munyon's Cold Cure the Surest Safeguard.

Weather changes affect three-fourths of the people in this section of the country as epidemic as ever was La Grippe at its height. The cause is the sudden change in the weather.

Those who suffer from their susceptibility to climatic changes find that they pass sleepless nights, and in the morning feel tired and debilitated. Some are affected differently from others. But sore throats, aching limbs, hoarseness and cold in the head are the common symptoms.

Should precautions prove unavailing, absolute safety can be obtained by the use of MUNYON'S COLD CURE. It should be obtained at once and taken according to directions. Even the most obstinate cold can be broken in from one to four hours and entirely eradicated in a short time. If the cold has reached the lungs, MUNYON'S COLD CURE should be taken alternately with the Cold Cure. Thousands have testified to the value of these remedies in effecting a cure. A cold seems to be a "little thing," but if it is not taken at the starting point, it may mean pneumonia, rheumatism, kidney trouble or any of numerous such evils.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

Not for me! I'm safe from all of them, and happy. The heat of summer causes organic matter everywhere to decay. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment a hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned, thrown out of order—sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis, and in some regions yellow fever and the plague. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. What does good sense tell you to do? You can't keep the human body on ice, and the drinking of ice-cold drinks does more harm than good because it stops digestion and chills the internal organs. The proper thing is to keep all impure and unnecessary matter out of the body every day, not give it a chance to sour and decay in the stomach and bowels, and poison the blood and the whole body. In this way you will stop all hot, feverish conditions, and keep your insides cool and healthy. To do it, use a medicine that is not offensive to the taste and not harsh and violent in its action. There is only one safe system-cleaner to take in the summer time, because it will not cause diarrhoea or griping, and that is
